Instructions

Read the following passages, and then choose the best answer to each of the questions that follow and mark it on your answer sheet.

Passage 1

- 1) Last night I had a frightening dream. I should explain that just before I went to bed, I ate an apple. I mention that because my mother always told me that if I ate right before going to sleep, I wouldn't sleep well and might even have a bad dream. But let me tell you about my dream.

- 2) I found myself in what seemed to be a familiar area outdoors, before I couldn't remember ever having been there before -- in my waking life, I mean. Maybe in some other dream I had been there and that might be why it seemed familiar.

There were lots of huge trees and vines and greenery, more or less like I would imagine a jungle in Brazil to be. It was very humid, but I was dressed in winter clothing.

That made me even more uncomfortable and I remember thinking that I should go home and change clothes. But where was home and how could I get there? I didn't know the answer to either question -- nor did I know how I ended up where I was.

It never occurred to me in the dream that I could remove the heavy winter coat, hat and gloves that I was wearing -- it just didn't seem to be an option.

- 3) In the dream I was all alone. No one was with me. Suddenly I heard voices and saw some people who had been my classmates in high school.

They were much older and looked quite different, but I instinctively knew who they were. In the dream, I could even recall their names. There were four of them and they seemed very concerned for me. They were dressed in loose light colored clothing appropriate for this jungle, but my attire didn't attract their attention at all -- nor did they mention anything about being out of place. One of them approached me and I knew he was speaking for all of them. He said they had been sent to warn me not to eat the fruit from the tree in front of me not to drink any of the water from the stream nearby.

As he told me this, I realized that I had something in my hand. It was a fruit from the very tree he was warning me about -- and I had already eaten more than half of it. Without him saying so, I knew that the fruit was poisonous and probably also the water from the stream.

- 4) At this point I awoke in a heavy sweat, having thrown off my covers. I went to the bathroom and splashed some water on my face to cool down a bit, then returned to bed. How strange, I thought, that an apple tree was growing in the midst of that jungle!

Instructions

Read the following passages, then choose the best answer to each question that follows and mark it on your answer sheet.

Passage 1

- 1) My own notorious carelessness caused me to drop a very large sum of money on the street. A group of young boys returning from their school came upon it and promptly turned it over to a nearby policeman. The students and the officer for some reason guessed that it must belong to a westerner who lives nearby. Before I had even noticed the loss of the money, the policeman came knocking on my door and informed me that what had been lost has been found. Now, at this point, there is a need to emphasize that the policeman had the equivalent of several years' pay in his hand and that the students who found the money were from families that were struggling from paycheck to paycheck. Any temptation to keep the money would have been natural. But the promptness with which the money was returned to me proved that the idea never occurred to anyone involved in the incident.
- 2) When I went to the Abqaiq Police Station to sign for the money, I was treated like royalty. I was invited to sit with the officers and have some coffee. What normally would have been an administrative routine turned into a very pleasant social event and I felt as if I were sitting in comfortable conversation with old friends. Good works should be rewarded. I tried to employ that maxim by offering the father of the boy who took charge of the money a generous reward for his help and honesty. The father refused the money, said that my gratitude was quite sufficient and that his family was glad to be of service.
